Borders
(The Magnetic Fields)

China Heights is proud to present 'Borders (The Magnetic Fields)' by acclaimed artist Stanislava Pinchuk; a data mapping of the changing landscape made by the evacuation of the Calais "Jungle" Refugee Camp.

Collecting data over 6 months, the works plot entire camp topographies as lace meshes; a fabric of desire & longing. This references the history of Calais' traditional lace borders and textile industry, as well as current political borders.

The gridding also references the white fences barricading the camp, as well as medical gauze.

Shown alongside the maps are a series of terrazzo blocks which preserve the survival objects trampled into the ground during the evacuation.

Beautiful at a distance, only on closest inspection do they reveal their contents to be SIM cards, shotgun shells, tent poles, shoes, toothbrushes & kiosk tiles.

The blocks preserve the nature of the camp ground in a material made for both interior & exterior use - the nature of the public domesticity in the "Jungle."

We are beyond excited to present the body of work that has recently placed Stanislava Pinchuk on the Forbes Asia 30 Under 30 List.
